

A photograph of three women from the Auckland Niutao Community performing. They are wearing traditional Tuvalu crochet dresses with colorful geometric patterns and white flower accents. They have flower leis and are clapping. The background shows other people and a mannequin in traditional dress.

Need funding for a local arts project?

Contact your city or district council to find out about the Creative Communities Scheme